Dear [Hiring Manager's Name],

I am writing to express my interest in a position that leverages both graphic design and front-end development—areas where my skills and enthusiasm strongly align. With certifications in both Digital Media/Multimedia Design and Front-End Development, I bring a well-rounded perspective that bridges visual design and web functionality.

At Orange Technical College, I built a strong foundation in Adobe Creative Suite, creating professional materials such as an event flyer, layout designs, and custom print designs. These projects refined my understanding of typography, color theory, and layout balance, ensuring that my work communicates effectively across both print and digital platforms.

Expanding into web development through the Codecademy Front-End Engineer Career Path, I learned to craft responsive websites using HTML and CSS, and developed a portfolio that incorporates basic JavaScript elements hosted on GitHub. This technical foundation complements my design expertise and allows me to build visually compelling, user-friendly experiences that perform seamlessly across devices.

I am eager to contribute to a creative, collaborative environment where design and development work hand in hand. My attention to detail, commitment to continuous learning, and ability to adapt quickly make me confident I would add value to your team.

Thank you for considering my application. I welcome the opportunity to discuss how my combined design and development skills can support your organization's goals.

Best Regards,
Devin Sloan
